

Communicate 2016: Swapping Spectacles

2nd & 3rd November, Bristol, UK

We each see the world through our own lens, pieced together from a unique set of experiences, influences and presuppositions. For those of us working in the environmental sector, surrounding ourselves with like-minded lens wearers, the destructive forces facing the natural world stand out and dominate our view from our own particular angle. But what do these issues look like through a different eyepiece? Maybe it's time we swap spectacles and take a peek at what other people are seeing and understanding when they look at our stories through altogether different frames.

We invite you to join us for Communicate 2016: Swapping Spectacles for two days of inspiring content, interactive workshops and engaging discussion in a relaxed and friendly atmosphere that provides fantastic opportunities for networking with fellow communicators.

Register and find out more at www.communicatenow.org.uk

 @Communicate_16

Communicate is brought to you by Bristol Natural History Consortium

Sponsored by

